KNOW ALL ABOUT "QUALITY HILL."

Grand Army Veterans to Rejoice at Dances.

ILLINOIS.

DECATUR, Ill., April 6.—Little flags flutter above the thatches of the humble homes in this brisk little city. Over the more pretentious ones there are clusters of the national colors arranged in the most extravagant manner. There are arches over the principal streets on which are inscribed words of welcome. Everything which is prominent is arrayed in red, white and blue.

To-day Decatur will receive the veterans who fought with Grant, Logan, Sheridan and Sherman.

The occasion will be the silver anniversary of the organization of the first grand army post in the United States. It was baptised in St. Louis, and the controversy was going on Adjutant Steele, of the post organized here, looked up its records and found them in an old trunk in a back room. He took the minutes to St. Louis, hired a tent, spread it on the court house square in that city, and hung out a banner to the effect that he had the minutes of the first Grand Army Republic post ever held in this country. The announcement attracted the attention of the national encampment and an investigation was held, the result of which was that the little post of Decatur got national recognition.

PEORIA, Ill., April 6.—The two Grand Army of the Republic posts of this city, the Woman's Relief Corps and the Sons of Veterans met in Rouse's hall Sunday night and celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Grand Army of the Republic.

BURIAL OF DEAD STRIKERS.

No Trouble at Scottsdale or Mount Pleasant during the Ceremony.

SCOTTSDALE, Pa., April 6.—The bodies of the men killed at Morewood Thursday morning were buried here Saturday. A train of five coaches brought the mourners from Mount Pleasant, and the party was met by a crowd of nearly 5,000 miners. Five companies of the Eighteenth regiment, under Col. N. M. Smith, were on duty at the depot to repress any demonstration.

After the funeral at the Catholic cemetery the crowd assembled on the Evanson flats, where it was addressed by Robert Watchorn, ex-secretary of the United Mine Workers. He counseled peace, and while deplored the tragedy at Morewood advised the men to adopt pacific measures. Addresses were also delivered by the officers of the United Mine Workers, following Watchorn's lead.

Two more men died Saturday of injuries received at Morewood on Thursday morning—Paul Salinsky, of Donnelly, and Joseph Klasman, of Mullins.

The troops have charge of the coke companies' property, and the feeling prevails that as long as the militia remain there will be no more lawlessness. The soldiers cannot stay always, however, and it is feared that unless the strike is settled before they are called home the deprivations will be renewed just as soon as their backs are dead.

The election of a commander of the department of Illinois to succeed the present commander, Distin, will be one of the important business transactions of this meeting. The two names considered so far are Horace S. Clark, of Mattoon, and T. C. Fullerton, of Ottawa.

The programme for to-day as agreed upon is as follows:

Music—"America."

Reading of general order 18 and address of Col. N. M. Smith.

Prayer by Dr. E. W. Moore.

Presentation by Dunham post of "Personal War Sketches" by S. L. Shabbellarger.

Response by W. C. Johns.

Address—"The Grand Army of the Republic, and How to Perpetuate Its Memory," Gen. George A. M. of Illinois.

Presentation of Dunham post's contribution to the National Memorial Hall by E. L. Hayes.

Recitation by Miss Anna J. Jones.

Address by Ex-Gov. Ogleby.

Gov. Pifer and his staff will be here Wednesday morning. Mrs. John A. Logan will be here on the same day as the strike. The woman's Relief Corps her assistance. This relief corps consists of over 400 members. The committee is hard at work preparing for the reception. The special trains have begun to arrive. The railroads report to the committee that they will unload not less than 40,000 people here during the day.

Mr. Stephenson formulated the grand army idea when he was a soldier on the field. When the war was over he submitted his plan to several comrades who did not think much of it at the time. He travelled about the state urging his notion on the old comrades, but found no encouragement.

Such an organization meant expense and the soldiers had not recuperated from the shock of war. Stephenson himself was as poor as a church mouse. He submitted his scheme to Richard J. Oglesby, the governor; John W. Snyder, Robert M. Woods, John A. Lightfoot, John S. Phelps and others of Springfield. Doubtless from each of these friends I received many suggestions that were incorporated in the plan.

In the spring of 1865 at the request of comrades J. W. Routh and M. F. Kanan Stephenson visited Decatur with his manuscript plans of organization, briefs for ritual, etc., and placed them in the hands of J. W. Routh, J. T. Bishop, M. F. Kanan and George H. Dunn, who revised the manuscript and formulated the original constitution.

It readily be seen that it was unavoidable to take this position; as a master of test and sentiment, both of those eminent gentlemen must have experienced sensation of humiliation in holding their new neighbors up to ridicule in a public meeting. However, the criticism on their conduct should not be too severe; for from the standpoint of professional politicians it is much more essential to have good solid than to have good neighborhood feeling and good municipal government.

The "young Napoleon" of the Wisconsin militia, says he does not believe in the party whip, admitting that in a local election the best men should be elected to office. He admitted freely Saturday evening that Dr. St. John was the best man before the people for mayor, yet "the eyes of the Madison slate makers are watching the democrat of Janesville, and they must shut their eyes and vote the straight ticket from top to bottom."

Mr. Winans in his speech said he had known the Irish for thirty years, and had never known them to falter in their support of the democratic ticket. If republican or a republican newspaper had made the statement that the Irish always vote for the democratic candidate, whether good or bad, honest or dishonest, sober or otherwise such an orator or newspaper would be denounced in nameless terms.

The whole burden of the democratic speeches on Saturday evening was that democratic voters should stand by their party ticket and the saloons. Mayor St. John violated the law, said Mr. Winans when he demanded four hundred dollars license money from the saloons. The people will sustain such violations of law.

"I frequently read the Gazette for the humorous literature it contains, and there was a humorous article in the Gazette this evening," said Adjutant General Doe at the Hibernal Hall rally. "It tells us that the election of Dr. Robin will cost the tax-payers of Janesville eight thousand, six hundred dollars."

General Doe may bubble with merriment at the thought of piling eight thousand dollars more taxes on the people, but the tax payers will hardly echo his laughter.

Milwaukee Sentinel.—The ambitious democratic statesmen of Dane county do not care to associate with John Winans of Rock, in a congressional district.

Can it be possible, that John Winans, in a public speech will use his eloquence to array his fellow citizens against one another in class strife?

STRONG WARD TICKETS!

Glances at the Republican Standard Bearers

THEIR VICTORY ASSURED

For Aldermen and Supervisors the Republican Nominations Are Fully Keeping with the Remains of the Ticket.

W. F. Carl, the republican candidate for supervisor in the First ward, is a veteran in the county and one of the leading business men of the city board. In the board he is a leader and no one understands the county business better than he. He should be elected by a unanimous vote.

T. W. Goldin is the republican candidate for school commissioner in the First ward, is a lawyer by profession, being a member of the law firm of Dunswell & Goldin. He will make an excellent member of the board of education, in which body he will be of service not only to the people of the ward but to the city.

Clinton D. Child is the republican candidate for alderman in the Second ward. He is a veteran of the late war, and has resided in Janesville since the disbandment of the army. For the past eighteen years he has been in the employ of the Janesville Machine Co., being at present foreman of one of the departments of that manufacture. He is careful and painstaking in everything he undertakes. The people of the Second ward can rest assured that he will faithfully represent them in the common council.

Oscar F. Nowlan, the republican candidate for supervisor in the Second ward, has been a member of the county board for twelve or fourteen years, served the county on many of the leading standing and special committees. He is thoroughly conversant with the county affairs, and the people of the Second ward should give him a handsome endorsement.

A. K. Catts, the republican candidate for constable in the Second ward, is one of the earliest settlers of Rock County, and for years has resided in the Second ward. He is a faithful public officer, and ranks as one of the most reliable of Janesville constables.

I. O. Brownell, the republican candidate for alderman of the Third ward, is one of the successful business men of the city. He has had several years' experience as a member of the county board and is trustworthy and honorable in all his actions and dealings with his fellow men. He has probably interest in several wards, and will make a careful and judicious councilman.

Fenner Kimball, the republican candidate for supervisor of the Third ward, is a veteran legislator. He has represented the city in the state legislature; been a member of the county board for ten or twelve years, and is at present serving his second term as chairman. He's one of the careful business men of the county legislature, besides being connected with some of our most extensive and flourishing manufacturing wants.

The republicans of the Third ward showed their good judgment in placing Victor P. Richardson in nomination for the office of school commissioner. Mr. Richardson is peculiarly fitted for the position; is heartily in sympathy with the public school system of our state, and he will do all in his power to increase the efficiency of that system.

Wallace Cochran, the republican candidate for constable in the Third ward, has served the ward in that capacity during the last year. He is faithful and efficient, attending strictly to the business put in his hands. Third ward republicans will give him a solid vote.

By common consent the Fourth ward republicans turned to A. G. Anderson for aldermanic candidate. For some years Mr. Anderson has been foreman of the extensive blacksmith shops of the Janesville Machine Company. He is highly respected by his co-laborers, and as our democratic contemporary will have, "the better claim" of the Fourth ward will stand by him on Tuesday, and give him a good majority.

R. C. Yeomans, the republican candidate for constable in the Fourth ward, is an old resident of the city, and is the foreman of the gas and plumbing establishment of H. E. Merrill & Co. He is popular with the people, and will poll more than the vote of his party.

O. N. Vankirk is the republican candidate for alderman in the Fifth ward for the long term, and D. C. Burdick stands for the short term. Both candidates have hard rows to hoe, but the people have the fullest confidence in their ability to truly represent them in the council, and both will make a strong candidate.

A. E. Rich, the republican candidate for supervisor of the Fifth ward, is one of the most popular men in the city. He is an old resident of the ward, and for years was a passenger conductor on the Northwestern railway. The political odds are against him in the fifth ward, yet his personal friends claim there is a good chance for him to occupy a seat in the county board.

John McLochlo is the republican candidate for school commissioner in the Fifth ward. He is the foreman of the jobbing department of the Gazette Print Co., and is a veteran of the late war, serving his country bravely on many hotly contested battle fields. He is well qualified for the position his party has named for him.

"MONEY MAD" TO-NIGHT.
An Elaborate Production at Myers Opera House.

The "Money Mad" Company arrived this morning. They carry a carload of special effects scenery and for convenience of unloading the car was sidetracked near the Thoroughgood factory. This celebrated sensational drama was produced in New York last spring, and enjoyed a long and prosperous run. This season it is duplicating the success and has played to phenomenal business in the principal cities. It will be produced to-night and tomorrow night at the Myers', with all the original scenic and realistic mechanical effect. The famous bridge scene is said to be the greatest piece of stage carpentering ever shown on the stage.

HARD ON THEIR NEIGHBORS.
Assemblyman Winsans and J. B. Doe Tell About "We, the People."

It required an hour's incessant playing by the Bower City Band on Saturday evening, to induce four hundred people to climb the stairs to Hibernal Hall to listen to the democratic speeches on the local campaign. Many of those who entered the hall were boys, and a few republicans ventured inside to listen to the arguments. Richard Valentine acted as master of ceremonies. John Winsans, J. B. Doe and William Boehne were the speakers. Mr. Winsans spoke first. Neither he nor General Doe had any arguments to offer, except strict party fealty and opposition to Comrade C. E. Bowles; reading of special order by Comrade George Warren; remarks by Dr. J. B. Whiting and Rev. C. F. Elliott; recitation by Lillian Childs DeLong, and several songs by a quartette. The meeting promises to be very interesting, and the church will doubtless be crowded.

CAN FIND NO FLAWS.
Dr. John's Critics Unable to Support Their Charges.

"Oh, that some Power the giftie gies us To see ours as others see us."

I was at the meeting of the untried democrats at Hibernal Hall on Saturday night, and listened to the speeches, and to one who knew the history, public and private, of Janesville and its people, it was a most amusing spectacle. John Winsans reviewed the status of Dr. St. John, and failed to point to a single act during his several administrations on which he could make an unfavorable criticism.

Functional James Quinn, of Center, was buried in Mount Olivet cemetery Sunday afternoon, funeral service being held at St. Patrick's church at 2 o'clock, conducted by Dean McGinnity. A large number of friends followed the remains to the cemetery, the pall bearers being Messrs. James Farrington, John Connors, Walter Daley, Michael Ryan, Michael Hayes, Michael Connors.

What's the matter with St. John? Oh, he's all right," save that he accepted a call from men of all parties and no party—became a people's candidate for mayor. For this St. John was surely culpable. Did the honorable gentleman forget that he did the same thing—accepted the call and platform of the independents nine years ago?

Query. Did any of Mr. Winsans' supporters live on "Quality Hill?" At that time Mr. Winsans lived in the aristocratic First ward; but it is well known that he obtained a place—a residence on "Quality Hill"; and it is a noticeable fact that the location never acquired the name permanently until Mr. Winsans and General Doe became residents of the place. Boston has her Bunker Hill and San Francisco her Nob Hill, and why should not Janesville have its "Quality Hill?"

Mr. Winsans protested that only fifteen or twenty saloons would be a monopoly and as he did not fix a limit that would not be a monopoly it was easy to see that he represented the sense of the meeting that there should be no "no monopoly" or limit to the flow of liquid poison.

Saloons undoubtedly we shall have, but the serious question is shall they run and control the city or shall the city regulate and control them? And this is the question that the people's call on St. John asks the voters of this city to decide. Ignoring all state or national issues, ignoring party lines, which really ought to have nothing to do in municipal government, we ask every well-wisher of our beautiful city to join with us in favor of the best possible administration on city government.

A Storm Predicted.

Forecast for Janesville and vicinity—Stormy.

The temperature as observed by E. B. Helmstreet during the last twenty-four hours was as follows:

At 7 a.m. .... 37 Maximum.....
At 1 p.m. .... 40 Minimum.....

Full Brother to Cyclone.

Edward Myers, of Streator, Illinois, is registered at the Myers House. Myers is a brother of Pugilist Billy Myers the "Streeter cyclone." Ed. is something of a fighter himself, and has been traveling around the country, giving exhibitions with his brother.

Sleeps Far From Home.

Bert Fowler, the young telegraph student who died Friday of scarlet fever, was buried in Oak Hill cemetery on Saturday evening.

LOCAL CHURCH NOTES.

Seven candidates were confirmed at St. John's Lutheran church yesterday.

Especially good music was rendered by the choir on the occasion of the confirmation exercises.

On the whole Mr. Winsans' speech was a plea for party and not for good city government, as he failed to point to a single thing they would do for the good name and prosperity of the city. Dr. St. John lives and always has in the unpretentious Fourth ward, and is a good sample representative of its people.

Next comes General Doe, who fought so bravely in the war with Italy, and wears the insignia of his office, to the amusement of the G. A. R., and the suggestion to the small boys: "Aint I a bigger man than old Grant?" He told the audience in his peculiar style: "It does not follow that because a man is young that he is stupid, or wise because he is old." He too failed to make a single point against St. John or in favor of the party of their candidate of running the saloon wide open, without limit as to number, with only a single retail license; thus losing $4,600 for the wholesale business which, license or no license, the saloons have always practiced.

Dr. St. John did not seek the office but was sought for the office because of his record in times past and the confidence his name inspires. Freed from party obligations he will enter upon the duties of his office free from all obligations but to give the people a clean, straightforward administration. The direct interest of many a home in this city depends on the result to-morrow. Let every voter cast his vote to satisfy his judgment, and all will be well.

Man the Little Boat.

Are your wave-battered, dismasted boat dashed to pieces upon that craggy rock by the restless waves? Here, too, a shattered physique, fast yielding to the attacks of disease with that imperial rector of health and strength, Hostetter's Stomach Bitter. The range of its powers is wide, its action prompt and thorough, its use always safe. Chronic indigestion, debility and nervousness, muscular complaints, rheumatism, neuralgia, inactivity of the kidneys and bladder, and that physical decay with its apparent cure, are all easily effected by this medicine of many uses and sure results. Sleep, appetite and vigor are improved by this helpful tonic and regulator, the use of which like wise tends to remedy undue lassitude.
